A Successful Science Week

The College of The Bahamas’ School of Chemistry, Environmental and Life Sciences celebrated its Science Week under the theme Science in Society. Science Week highlighted the current and future role science plays in national security and educational development. At the opening ceremony, Surgical Oncologist, alumnus Dr. Wesley Francis, AA’85 reflected on his years at The College as humbling, teaching him the value of hard work and discipline. Activities also included the opening ceremony of the “Celebrating 30 Years of Flora in The Bahamas” symposium, a Science Competition, Blood Drive, Health Screening and Food Drive on Independence Park.

C Force on Musical Expedition

The C Force music faculty are performing at two concerts and an educational programme in St. Croix, US Virgin Islands this week. The repertoire will consist entirely of composers of Caribbean descent, including three Bahamian composers including: Alton A. Adams, Joseph Bologne Le Chevalier de Saint-Georges, Franz Hespurn, Werner Jaegerhuber, Ludovic Lamothe, Raymond La Motta, Quincy Parker, and Julio Racine. We are also excited to be performing the premier of Bahama Island Suite, composed for the C Force by Christian Justilien.
