Health Tip for the Week:

Keep it Cool

Normally, the body has ways of keeping itself cool, by letting heat escape through the skin and by evaporating sweat (perspiration). If the body does not cool properly or does not cool enough, the victim may suffer a heat-related illness. To prevent heat related illnesses remember the following tips. Dress for the heat; wear lightweight, light-coloured clothes and hats. Drink water even if you are not thirsty and avoid caffeine and alcohol that dehydrate the body. Eat small meals and eat more often. Slow down by avoiding strenuous activity; if you must do strenuous activity, do it during the coolest part of the day. Stay indoors when possible and take regular breaks. Remember, have fun, but stay cool!

Safety Tip for the Week:

Staying Safe during the Summer

It's summer and it's hot so take caution as you visit beaches and pools. Always remember to swim in supervised areas only. Obey all rules and posted signs. Don't mix alcohol and swimming. Alcohol impairs your judgment, balance and coordination. It also affects your swimming and diving skills and reduces your body's ability to stay warm. Pay attention to local weather conditions and forecasts. Stop swimming at the first indication of bad weather.
