Sir Lynden Pindling Exhibition Opens

Monday, August 26th, 2013 marked the 13th anniversary of the death of former Prime Minister the late Sir Lynden O. Pindling, widely credited as the architect of the modern Bahamas. It was also the day that citizens from all walks of life attended the opening of a special exhibition space in The College of The Bahamas’ Harry C. Moore Library and Information Centre. The exhibition celebrated Sir Lynden’s life through memorabilia, books, documents and relics, honouring The Man, The Vision and The Dream.

Commemorating the Fight for Freedom

Government leaders, diplomats and members of the College community attended a special ceremony held last Wednesday in the Harry C. Moore Library and Information Centre which commemorated the 50th anniversary of the March on Washington and Dr. Martin Luther’s King Jr’s compelling “I Have a Dream” speech. U.S. Charge d’Affaires John Dinkelman delivered remarks, as well as College Council Chairman Alfred Sears. A special Junkanoo Rush for Freedom followed the official ceremony.
